Director's Report

Library Board meeting – November 7, 2022

The previous Library Board meeting was held on Monday, October 3, 2022

Dexter Township has reappointed Jim LaVoie for a new term. Due to Rosemary Quigley's retirement, we will have a new Board member joining us. James (Jamie) Estill was appointed by Dexter Township. Due to his service as an election poll worker, Jamie's appointment is effective as of November 9, 2022 and will run the four-year cycle, ending on September 30, 2026.

On November 2, an article appeared in the Sun Times News noting the City of Dexter, Arts, Culture and Heritage Committee was considering commissioning David Zinn to do a piece or pieces around town. <https://thesuntimesnews.com/g/dexter-mi/n/129358/dexter-considering-permanent-zinn-artwork-around-town>. The City reached out to the Library to ask if we were interested. I wrote back to the City requesting more information. Their initial request was for something 'in the lobby.' I noted that more details would need to be presented to the Board for discussion. The text of the Sun Times article seemed to imply that the Library site was under consideration by the City. Unfortunately, neither the City nor the Committee can make this decision without consulting the Library Board. Zinn's work is well known and he most recently presented a sidewalk chalk drawing program at the Library on September 23, 2022 - <https://dexter.lib.mi.us/events/sidewalk-art-with-david-zinn/>, which attracted 30 attendees. If more information is provided by the City, it will be presented at the Board meeting.

During the month, staff held interviews for open reference librarian positions. Response to the postings was minimal and, after the interviews, an appropriate candidate was not found. The lack of appropriate candidates will require the positions be reposted. In conjunction with the pending minimum wage increase, the Finance Committee began discussions on the payroll structure (see Finance Committee minutes.)

The parts for the HVAC repair/replacement of the expansion tank for HVAC hot water circulation have been ordered by Altech, but they have been coming in slowly. At the end of the month, Altech reported that the majority of the parts have been received and the company is working on scheduling, but they are working around a number of emergency calls.

We continue to work with an environmental recycling company, ERG in Livonia to arrange for recycling of some hazardous materials. The materials are primarily florescent tubes, battery packs, and replaced electrical equipment with heavy metals. We hope to make a recycling run on Thursday, November 3, but that is pending ERG drop-off scheduling.

Michelle Joppeck has been quickly learning the ropes of the Administrative Assistant position and is poised to fully take over the role. Kim Swoverland has been cutting back on hours and will be essentially done in early November.

The audit was completed the week of October 17. The auditors are now utilizing a portal allowing the Library to upload a variety of documents for processing, including the entire Quickbooks accounting file. The auditors only spent one day on site, Tuesday, October 18. The expectation is that the draft audit will be available in mid-November for Library Board review with a final presentation by the auditors to happen at the December Board meeting.

Library Director McCann, as well as Michelle Joppeck and Kim Swoverland substituted in for miscellaneous maintenance duties and meeting room preparations during the October 8 through 16 period while Matt Erwin was on vacation.

The Library hosted a very successful Red Cross Blood Drive on Thursday, October 6. Pre-registration was essentially full, with only a few open donation slots open during the day. The Library exceeded the Red Cross goal by collecting 44 pints. This was almost 25% above the goal set by the Red Cross.

During the month, the Library's Amazon account was converted to a 'business' account. The change was necessary due to Amazon and Synchrony Bank dissolving their relationship. Future billing will be directly through Amazon. Details are still evolving, but during the conversion process, the customer service representative noted that monthly billing would still be an option.

On October 27, the wire for the November Bond payment was initiated. This is the smaller of the two annual payments. The November 1 payment simply covers interest and was in the amount of $24,500.00, including the $125.00 paying agent fee to Huntington Bank. Confirmation from Huntington was received.

Election day is scheduled for Tuesday, November 8. While there are many contentious races on the ballot, we hope the Library's millage renewal will be non-controversial. The Library has not been the focus of any contentious topics in the weeks leading up to the election. Over the past month, the Library's election information page on our web site has only been accessed 15 times and the Library value calculator accessed nine times. All individuals who have expressed early, mail in voting have noted they have voted in favor of the Library's issue. The most hotly contested race locally will be the School Board election, which has the potential to bring passionate voters to the polls. Please see the Friends report for additional information.

The Library has issued its RFP for a new telephone system. The current system was installed prior to opening the building over 13 years ago and the equipment is at the end of its life. Replacement prior to May 2023 will allow the Library to avoid fees if the new solution is VOIP and we are able to do away with the T-1 line, which currently handles the phone traffic. Over the first two days, the RFP was viewed 22 times on the Library web site, has been sent to bidnet.com for public posting and was made available to several contractors who have contacted the Library in the past with cold call sales pitches.

Friends of the Library

The Friends are returning to normal for their monthly Book Sales. In November, the Friends will be utilizing their sorting room and moving to use of the small side of the meeting room space for the standard Saturday sales. The group feels comfortable that the traffic has become manageable and the sales will still be profitable by using the smaller space. This was the practice prior to the pandemic.

The Friends organization of a ballot question committee has been uneven. The Friends Board discussed the issue at length, but the group reports lackluster response from the Friends membership to make phone calls in support of the ballot question. Production and distribution of signs was late in getting started and has had minimal impact.

E-mails noting scheduling of volunteers for Book Sale staffing indicate a lower level of volunteer turnout. Volunteer staffing for ongoing sorting efforts seems to be stable. While not explicit, it seems there is a greater response for activities which are isolated, rather than those that require constant public contact.

Youth Department

Fall Story Time in the Youth Department was in full swing this month with nine Drop-In Story Times offered to 236 people in October. Toddler Story Times reached 166 people and Preschool Story Time reached 135 people. The Department also held two additional programs for ages five and younger this month: Fall Crafts for Preschoolers had 60 people attend and a special Halloween Story Time attracted 69 people. The three youth book clubs saw 39 children from pre-K through fifth grade attend.

For the school-age kids we offered a few Drop-In programs with 93 people visiting our STEMfest and 29 participating in Makerspace. Registration required programs included the Lego Challenge in which all 25 people that registered came to the program, the Spooky Crafts for Kids program, which saw 42 people attend, Chess Club program, which drew 16 people.

The Teen Department offered six, in-person programs this month. The 'Stranger Things Fandom' night was popular with 15 people attending. The rest of the programs, such as the bookclubs, Teen Advisory Group, Magic the Gathering, and Zom-Beanies, had a combined total of 19 attendees. At the beginning of the month, the Library hosted about 50 fifth graders for a class field trip.

Adult Department

In October, the Adult Department presented 16 programs on-site and two Zoom events. The Zoom events were movie discussions with a total of nine people attending. Over the course of the winter, the Department expects to offer a few more remote presentations. A number of patrons noted this was more convenient for their schedules and with the earlier sundown, dark driving conditions and potential for ice and snow, this may help more seniors participate over the winter.

The Library presented the Manhattan Short Film Festival for several showings. This event attracted 77 patrons in total. The Library offered four Thursday morning Restorative Yoga classes this month with attendance averaging between eight and 11 people. The Medicare Made Easy program, offered by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, was well attended by 34 patrons and there was also a good turnout for the Detroit Historical Society presentation 'Houdini in Detroit' with 25 patrons attending.

Technology Department

Scott Wright spent time this month revising the RFP for phone system replacement. The RFP was posted on November 1. The Library also added a Ricoh Cloud apps subscription, which enabled the OCR functionality on the main office copier. This will be integral for a document scanning project in the Administration area that will help with both records retention and eliminating paper storage. Scott will also be managing a network attached storage device to expand local backup capabilities.

Scott also resolved problems with the Dexter School issued Mac laptops and how those connect to the Library Wi-Fi. He also resolved a new issue with two factor authentication required to access Google accounts used by departmental staff to manage calendars. Additionally, he offered four technology classes and two extended One-on-One help session.

Circulation Department

October saw many patrons coming into the library for story times and programs, resulting in many people coming to the Circulation Desk to check items out or get a new card. Saturday mornings remain consistently busy while the Farmers Market is open. We have seen an increase of delivery bins which means more patrons are placing items on hold and receiving items from other libraries. The staff that process MeL interlibrary loan items have also seen an increase in books arriving for our patrons from libraries around the state.

We have added a new page, Ella Nickerson, who is the sister of Anna, also a page. Ella is a student at Washtenaw Community College so she is able to come in earlier in the day than the high school students. She is replacing one of the pages who quit because of her commitment to the drama club at the high school. Ella has been doing a great job and we are happy to have a college student who has different schedule flexibility from Dexter High School students.

It seems that the activity at the Library has returned to pre-pandemic levels which we are all happy to see. Knowing that the Library is providing so many services to so many patrons is very gratifying for the circulation department.

Maintenance

Matt spent a significant amount of time this month setting up and tearing down the meeting room as programs continue to ramp up. Routine maintenance and small repairs inside also continue to fill his schedule. Projects for the month included finishing the landscaping and continuing to work on fall maintenance outside, additional graffiti removal from the emergence exit area on the lower level, unclogging the first floor women's and staff restroom sinks, as well as cutting up a fallen tree and branches around the back terrace.

Howlett Lock & Door replaced a magnetic hold on door, but it still was not working so Matt had to contact Riverside. This is still unresolved, but he is in the process of getting Hopp Electric in touch with Riverside to see if they can get it fixed. Ken Cook plumbing installed a new drinking fountain with a bottle filler and Hopp Electric changed the first floor women's restroom lighting ballast and battery pack as well as installed a new pack light sensor.

Policy Committee Meeting
October 11, 2022
-DRAFT-Meeting Minutes

Members present: Cassy Korinek, Paul McCann, Sherry Simpson

Members absent: Shelly Vrsek

Others present: Michelle Joppeck, Recording Secretary

This meeting was conducted via the online video conferencing program Zoom and was called to order at 7:06 p.m.

The presented agenda was reviewed and approved by consensus.

Meeting minutes from August 26, 2022 were reviewed and approved by consensus.

Board terms were discussed. McCann and LaVoie had a meeting with Dexter Township on October 6, 2022 regarding Jim's reappointment. They also had a meeting with someone who has applied to be appointed for the open position. Jim and the new potential board member are expected to be appointed at the next meeting, October 18, 2022.

Setting a new meeting date and time was postponed until all members could be present and be a part of the conversation. Correspondence may be made through email to try to find a good date and time for regular meetings. A discussion was made about continuing to meet via Zoom as well.

A review of the Policy for Discussing and Voting on Matters of Policy was made. No changes will be made at this time.

A review of the necessity for the creation of a policy for joint programming was discussed. The definition of joint programming in regards to the policy was also discussed.

There was a discussion of copyright challenges with joint programming. The Library's umbrella copyright license for movie showings only covers movies shown inside the Library so it wouldn't cover any events held outside of the Library building or off of Library property. The umbrella license also doesn't always cover the most recent and popular movies, but buying one-time licenses are possible. A cost analysis needs to be made to see if it would be worth it to buy the one-time license with relations to the number of anticipated attenders.

When discussing criterion to allow specific joint programming opportunities, it was mentioned that it might be a good idea to potentially have a mixed list of requirements. There may be some that are hard requirements that have to be met in order to be considered, but then there would be some soft requirements as well. The soft requirements would help balance out what is offered and help score the programming to decide if the Library will get involved in that programming opportunity.

It was brought up that the Library doesn't have a way for patrons to offer evaluations of events and programs. If we could figure out a way to do evaluations of the events and programs offered, that may be a way to collect data on what kinds of programs are desirable and what kind of impact certain events have on the Library and patrons. That would be something to extend to joint programming as well to gauge how the joint programming is affecting Library use and what joint programming patrons are interested in participating in.

Library delivery for people with mobility issues was brought up as a possible joint program opportunity. Connecting with organizations like Meals-On-Wheels might be a good place to get started or at least start making connections. It would need to be a mostly volunteer operated program due to the amount of time it would take to deliver materials, but it would provide an opportunity for those who are home bound to have some interactions with other people and meet some of the social needs that they may have.

A recommendation was made that a policy or procedure for joint programming should be put off until after the next Strategic Planning cycle. If we start offering them now and joint programming takes off, that may make the Strategic Planning more complicated. Additionally, if we go ahead and continue to flesh out the joint programming policy and our Strategic Plan determines that joint programming is not desired, then a lot of time and effort will have been put into something that may never be used. A discussion on when the next Strategic Planning session may be was made.

A decision was made that, at this time, joint programming is not ready to be brought to the Board, but it might be good to let them know what is being thought about to get their ideas and input.

For updates on the pandemic, refreshments are still not being offered at Library sponsored events at this time. If the infection rates continue with their downward trend, refreshments may begin being offered again in the near future. Quotes on adding a dishwasher and/or a washer and dryer are still being requested. Those appliances would be used to clean and sanitize toys and games in the youth department, allowing those to be brought back out for the public to use. Everything else is close to or back to normal pre-covid procedures.

Having reached the end of agenda, the meeting was deemed adjourned by consensus at 8:22 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Michelle Joppeck
Recording Secretary

Finance Committee Meeting
November 3, 2022
-DRAFT-Meeting Minutes

The meeting was called to order at 8:41 am.

Members present: Jim LaVoie, Donna Palmer, Paul McCann

Members absent: None

Others present: Michelle Joppeck, Recording Secretary

The presented agenda was approved by consensus.

Minutes from the previous Finance Committee on July 21st were included/approved with the prior Board Packet, and were not reviewed at this meeting.

Positive Pay through Chelsea State Bank was discussed. Positive Pay is basically insurance against someone being able to create and cash fraudulent checks. Chelsea State Bank has offered three options; two of which require monthly payments to Chelsea State Bank. The first option would be to have someone check the bank account every day to see if any checks are processing that have not been authorized. This option is free, but if fraudulent check aren't caught by 12 pm the following business day, there is no action that can be taken to correct the fraud. The second option would be to have someone check the bank account, but there would be an additional 24 hours buffer to catch any fraudulent checks. This option costs $50/month. The third option would be to send Chelsea State Bank a list of all checks that have been authorized and only those items will be cleared and paid by Chelsea State Bank. This option costs $75/month, but if any fraudulent checks get processed, Chelsea State Bank would be responsible since they are the ones clearing everything. A discussion was held about what option would be best for our processes and situations. A discussion also transpired about moving to all payroll checks to direct deposit and all invoices to ACH. A decision was made to continue with the first option and have the Library Director check the daily account activity.

The Michigan Municipal League Liability and Property policy was reviewed. The Miscellaneous Outdoor Equipment limit was determined to be too low. The recommendation was made to make sure that the Replacement Cost and Limits are sufficient.

The potential minimum wage increase was discussed. It was recommended to wait and see what happens with the election. Depending on who is elected, it is possible that a new law could be passed that would render the court's decision no longer necessary. It was requested to find out what other libraries are doing and/or have already done about the potential minimum wage increase and how it has or is expected to affect their overall budget.

Staffing and starting wages was also discussed. It was determined that a review of the payroll structure is warranted. It was recommended to get comparison starting wages for comparable libraries and continue the discussion after those numbers are obtained.

Another Finance Committee meeting is requested to be held before the December Board Meeting in order to continue the timeline and discussion of minimum wage and the payroll structure.

A review of the budget and the current statement of operations was made. It was recommended to add a note for the public about the e-content credit that is received by TLN on behalf of the Dexter District Library. The credit is already calculated into the annual budget for cooperative fees, but not reflected in the income section of the budget.

Investments continue to improve. The transfer of the money from the closed out Level One CD to the MI Class account hasn't happened quite yet. The rates for CDs are bounding back, but are still not quite as high as MI Class.

The millage renewal will be voted on at the November 8th election.

Fine Free has not made any progress.

LaVoie presented his feelings that the Board is on a stall for future planning.

The meeting was deemed adjourned at 10:25 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Michelle Joppeck
Recording Secretary

Dexter Considering Permanent Zinn Artwork Around Town

Doug Marrin Editor ✓

A collection of Zinn art examples included in the ACHC proposal. Source: city council meeting packet.

“Everyone benefits from the positive effects of smiling and laughter.”

So begins Dexter’s Art, Culture, & Heritage Commission’s (ACHC) proposal to the city council to place artwork by renowned area artist David Zinn around town.

Zinn lives in Ann Arbor and is well-known for his family-friendly 3D chalk art drawings. His permanent art includes the full-size 3D mural “Laughing at Clouds” in Ann Arbor. He has created permanent works outside the Toledo Museum of Art and inside the U of M Museum of Natural History. His art can be found worldwide in places including Sweden, Taiwan, Germany, France, and the Netherlands.

His presentation at TEDx UofM (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iSVXYrJs4S8>) has been viewed almost 37,000 times. “I am a compulsive doodler,” he begins his talk.

The ACHC proposes to have Zinn create a permanent mini mural in Dexter, which will be the first of several. The goal from there is to develop a series of Zinn 3D art scenes around town depicting Dexter's life featuring creatures indigenous to the area drawn in Zinn's characteristic fun and cheerful style. The art would be unique to Dexter and hidden around town for people to discover while walking.

The commission thinks that adding Zinn's outdoor art would enhance Dexter's character and increase its place as a destination city. People have been known to go to Ann Arbor for a treasure hunt of Zinn's art. The same could be expected of Dexter. And while visiting the town, Zinn treasure hunters will most likely visit local shops and browse the shelves of unique items or stop for food and drink.

The ACHC suggests having Zinn create a mini mural either inside the library or at the farmers market pavilion. If public feedback is positive, the plan would be to add 6–8 mini murals around town in time for Dexter's bicentennial in 2024.

Possible characters include chipmunks, blue herons, wild turkeys, farm animals, brook trout, groundhogs, beavers, and more. Possible activities include cycling, kayaking, farming, hiking, sledding, stargazing, and other outdoor fun. Other topics to be considered include the Memorial Day Parade, scenic Dexter, Dexter Daze, the 1966 UFOs, and other events.

The sizes of the artwork range from 4–18 inches in length. Each piece is expected to cost $700–$1,000.

The ACHC's proposal was included in City Manager Justin Breyer's report and not on the agenda for council discussion or action. Initial comments from the council supported the idea. Breyer speculates the next steps are for the ACHC to decide on the initial installation location and other details before making a final recommendation to the council.

Notes:

The Library's audit took place between October 17 through 19. The auditors continue to utilize technology to increase their efficiency. Kim Swoverland spent significant time working with Michelle Joppeck reviewing the Library's preparations for annual audits. Swoverland, Joppeck and McCann uploaded a significant number of documents, as well as the Library's Quickbooks accounting file, to the auditor's secure portal. This allowed the auditors to perform a good deal of preliminary work, prior to visiting the Library. The auditors were on site for just one day this year, but did send a few follow-up e-mails for additional documentation. It is expected the draft audit will be available for Board review by mid-November and the auditors are scheduled to provide a presentation to the Board at the December Library Board meeting.

CD investment rates continue to see significant interest rate increases. The Michigan CLASS investment pool continues to outpace the CDs, with the daily dividend increasing to 3.1868% on November 4.

The current check register also includes a check run performed on November 1. These are included for more timely Board review. Please note, the Statements of Operation and Balance Sheets only reflect expenses through October 31.
